The School refers to all staff and students in St Mary's School, which includes the Early Years/Foundations Stage (EYFS), the Preparatory Department (Years 1-6), Senior House (Years 7-11) and the Sixth Form (Years 12-13).

The term 'parent' refers to those who have parental responsibility for a child.

AIMS

At St Mary's School we are committed to providing a quality education in a caring and stimulating environment. We value each student and encourage everyone to reach her full potential within all aspects of school life. We have a whole school approach to meeting the educational needs of the students. Students with individual learning needs have a high priority within all areas of the curriculum. Our aim is to meet the individual needs of all students within the School, in partnership with the young people themselves and their parents. We recognise that some will need special provision during their time at school. The type of provision will vary greatly between individuals.

SEND

The SEND Code of Practice (2015) defines the SEND categories as Communication/Interaction, Cognition & Learning, Social, Mental & Emotional Health, Sensory and/or Physical. St Mary's School recognises the Department for Education definition of Special Educational Needs: 'Children have a special educational need if they have a learning difficulty which calls for special educational provision to be made for them' (SEND Code of Practice 2014). A student will receive SEND support if they require provision in addition to the curriculum and are not making expected progress. Special Educational Needs does not refer exclusively to students with Education, Health and Care Plans (EHC plan).

The term 'learning difficulty' (also known as 'learning difference' or 'neurodiversity') can reflect a range of needs or diagnosed conditions, including Dyslexia, Dyspraxia, Dyscalculia, Attention Deficit Disorder, Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder, Autism Spectrum Disorder, as well as processing difficulties or other learning issues resulting from emotional/behavioural issues, mental health or medical conditions. A student with a disability does not necessarily have SEND, but if they do, they will be able to access the same support as students with SEND.

OBJECTIVES

St Mary's School undertakes to ensure the following:

- To recognise the need for an identification and assessment procedure, so that all students may receive an appropriately differentiated curriculum and support to suit their individual needs
- To build on a student's strengths, to use these to support their areas of need
- To promote an ethos of equal opportunity

- To ensure that each student has full access to the broad and balanced curriculum to which they are entitled
- To work in open collaboration with students, parents, teachers and other agencies
- That there is a designated governor for SEND, responsible for maintaining an understanding of the operation of the Learning Support department
- That appropriate assessment procedures will be used to consider the needs of those applying to the School
- To monitor the learning experience and progress of all students with learning differences, to ensure they are able to access the curriculum

The Headmistress has overall responsibility for the admission and assessment procedures in the School. Together with the Governors, she will support the SEND Policy and ensure the School implements the objectives set out within it.

IDENTIFICATION AND ASSESSMENT

St Mary's is committed to the early identification of SEND as it can:

- Minimise the overall impact of the difficulties encountered
- Support teachers to provide appropriate individualised learning opportunities
- Maximise the opportunities for the student to respond positively to support
- Empower the student in their learning
- Enable the student to become a more independent learner
- Allow the opportunity for further interventions to be considered

Referral can come from a variety of sources including:

- Information at application (disclosure)
- Transfer information from previous school
- Student request
- Subject teacher raising concerns at their Departmental meeting
- Parental request

St Mary's takes a staged, partnership approach to identifying, assessing and meeting the needs of its students.

Disclosure at application is encouraged, so that Access Arrangements can be put in place, where appropriate, for any admission assessments being administered. A meeting can be held prior to entry to discuss needs and support provision.

Where a pre-existing need is identified (for instance, the student has previously been assessed), the information regarding the student's needs will be requested and considered. Further information will be gathered through conversations with the student, her parents, and her previous/current school. Support arrangements, where possible, will be agreed in partnership with student and parent.

Regardless of the age of the student, the school takes a graduated response to concerns surrounding a student's progress and the support provided to them. Should a concern be raised by a member of staff, a parent or the student themselves in relation to the progress or achievement of a student, an investigation will take place, which may include:

- Review/discussion of the strategies in place
- Recommendations of new strategies for differentiation
- Classroom observations

- Teacher questionnaire
- Learner interview/feedback

Where a concern is raised, some initial investigations will take place to gather feedback from teachers and the learner themselves. Where necessary, the Learning Support Team may arrange some initial assessment; then if appropriate, and in consultation with parents, the students can undertake a full diagnostic assessment, to get a broader picture of their strengths and challenges. This can either be completed by one of the Level 7 qualified Specialist Assessors in Learning Support (this will be billed directly to parents) or by one of the school's associated Educational Psychologists.

If there is found to be insufficient evidence from the initial investigations and assessments, parents retain the right to go ahead with an external assessment. However, St Mary's discourages the private commissioning of assessments with an external assessor. This is because the JCQ Regulations in relation to Access Arrangements states that such reports may not be used as evidence in applications for Access Arrangements. Should a parent provide a privately commissioned report as evidence for Access Arrangements, the School will not be able to accept it. Assessments must be carried out in School by one of the Level 7 qualified Specialist Assessors.

It is the responsibility of the Headmistress to decide whether or not a report may be accepted.

PROVISION

Within our setting, we aim that every student with identified SEND will have a package of support to meet their needs and the majority of students have their needs met by the School with the help of outside agencies and other specialists where necessary. This provision is "additional to, or otherwise different from, the educational provision made for pupils in their year." (Code of Practice 2014) St. Mary's recognises that SEND is a continuum and thus the Learning Support provision required will vary between individuals as their needs will be different.

A student's individual needs may best be met in the class within curriculum subjects, through appropriate differentiation; all subject teachers are responsible for catering for these needs and for supporting and monitoring progress accordingly. Teaching staff are supported in their lesson planning by the Learning Support Team and the student's Provision Passport (drawn up by Learning Support) which gives recommendations for appropriate strategies that can be used in their lessons. This is reviewed and updated at each Key Stage, unless an update is required earlier.

The SENDCO for Prep and the Head of the Preparatory Department liaise regarding learners who may need support. The SENDCO for Prep and the Head of the Preparatory Department liaise with class teachers on a termly basis to review the support and redirect it as necessary.

It is sometimes deemed appropriate for learners in KS3 and KS4 to have a reduced curriculum, thus they are exempt from a specific subject/s. In those lessons they may receive additional learning support, work independently to complete tasks/work as directed or be given time for supervised private study. Prior to a learner being exempt from a subject, there must be consultation with the class teacher, Deputy Heads, Learning Support and parents, before final authorisation can be sought from the Headmistress.

Learners in KS3 may be invited to attend small group Learning Support sessions, if they have an identified specific learning difference or need some additional help with their learning. These are run as a lunchtime 'club', usually in blocks and focus on specific study skills and multisensory learning strategies.

Students in Years 10 and 11 may be offered a one to one Learning Support lesson in order to help them develop their study skills and learning habits in preparation for their public examinations. Students in Years 12 and 13 will be offered a one to one Learning Support lesson in exceptional circumstances, otherwise they are invited to attend the weekly Learning Support 'Drop In Clinic' on an ad-hoc basis. Should students have concerns at other times, they are able to contact a member of subject staff and make an arrangement to see them. Some students' needs may be met by a regular 'check-in' slot.

At St Mary's we value the use of Assistive Technology to support learning and to help learners develop independence. Depending on their needs, learners in Senior House and Prep Department may be recommended to use the online learning platforms Lexia (a specialist programme to support literacy development) and Century (providing overlearning opportunities for the core subjects). The learners should access the programme regularly to see the best outcomes and this will be facilitated in school wherever possible. Learners in Senior House may be given the opportunity to use the text-to-voice software 'TextHelp Read & Write', to support their reading and studying; they are encouraged to use it in the classroom as well as their independent study and where appropriate they will be granted access to this in examinations, should they qualify for a Reader as part of their Access Arrangements. There may be a charge to parents for this software.

Should there be concerns about a student's social, emotional and/or mental health, the appropriate member of the Pastoral Team may become involved and work alongside the Head of Support for Learning to ensure the appropriate support is put in place for the student Access Arrangements for examinations will be applied for and put in place, in accordance with the JCQ Access Arrangements Regulations, where there is sufficient, appropriate evidence. Learners will be assessed by one of the Level 7 qualified Learning Support Team at the start of each Key Stage. Access Arrangements assessments for KS4 are usually started when the learner is in Year 9.

Students and parents of students with individual needs may decline the offer of Learning Support. These students will remain on the Learning Support Register.

Regular consultation and liaison occurs between the Learning Support Team and relevant parties where a student is to transfer between Key Stages so as to ensure as smooth a transition as possible. Where a student is transferring from a different school, Learning Support will seek to liaise closely with the feeder school, so as to support the transition of the student and ensure they are supported appropriately on arrival at St Mary's.

PARENTAL LIAISON & INVOLVEMENT

Along with the student voice, the Parent voice is important to the process of ensuring the correct support for students with learning differences. St Mary's will do all that is reasonable to report and consult with parents about their daughter's learning difference. They will be sufficiently informed so as to be able to understand the actions the school is taking to support their daughters. This is particularly relevant during the assessment stages and support planning. When reviewing support, contributions from the parent(s) and the student will be sought and valued. Parents are involved through informal communication with teachers and through formal procedures such as Parents' Evenings and scheduled review meetings. Where necessary, parental consent will be sought in consultation with relevant health professionals and/or outside agencies.

EDUCATION AND HEALTH CARE PLAN

Should a prospective student have an Education & Healthcare Plan (EHC plan), the School will consult with the parents and the Local Authority (where appropriate) in order to determine whether the identified provision as detailed in either of these documents can be honoured by the School. We will cooperate and liaise with the Local Authority as required in order to carry out statutory reviews. Should any additional services be required to meet the details of support specified in the EHC plan, these will be charged to the Local Authority (if the LA is responsible for the fees and St Mary's is named in the plan), otherwise charges will be made to parents for services outside what is deemed to be 'reasonable adjustments'.
